II. Activity Summary:

The programme was chaired by Dr Larinmawia, Associate Professor, Department of Zoology. The chairman provided an introduction outlining competitive exams in India and Mizoram.

The chairman then invited K. Malsawmtluangi, one of the resource persons to give a talk on job opportunities in India and Mizoram. She began by defining the terms career, job and work. She then discussed the types of competitive exams at both central and state levels. She outlined the challenges of securing a career in state services and how to prepare for competitive exams while studying at the college. She also emphasised the need for improvement in the Mizo and English languages.

The chairman then invited Wycliff Lalchhandama to give a talk on higher studies. He discussed the Master's and PhD programmes at Mizoram University and other institutions. He noted that the competition for admission is challenging as mainland Indian applicants are also eligible. He then explained the CSIR NET-JRF examination, its format and marking system. He also stated that the NET is the minimum criterion for PhD admission.
